Dear Friends,

Sunday Online Worship Gathering at 10 a.m.

We continue our journey through the letter to the Galatians. This week's text is 2:11-21, and it contains a famous statement by the Apostle Paul: "I have been crucified with Christ and I no longer live, but Christ lives in me. The life I now live in the body, I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me." (v. 20) What does this mean for everyday life? After I give a reflection on the text, we will hear from three people on that question.

*Please join the Zoom meeting after 9:30 a.m. to avoid problems entering.

We are between the times on so many levels and this is an opportunity for growth: "It is when we are betwixt and between, have left one room but have not yet entered the next room, any hiatus between stages of life, stages of faith, jobs, loves, or relationships. It is that graced time when we are not certain or in control, when something genuinely new can happen." Richard Rohr goes on to speak of how God enters this "liminal space" as a "teachable space."

I wonder what new thing God is doing in your life and mine, and in the life of our community.

We continue to wait on him.

With love and prayers,

Pastor Kerry Kronberg (with the whole team)
